

DEPARTMENT OF DEFENSE
UNITED STATES SPACE COMMAND

Welcome Joint Space Warfighter!

Congratulations on your assignment to our Nation's newest Combatant Command, United States Space Command! You are joining a handpicked warfighting-focused team of space professionals. With your help, we will fight for and preserve our space warfighting capability. My vision is captured here: <https://www.spacecom.mil/About/Strategic-Vision/>.

USSPACECOM is focused on building the command to compete and win. We are a diverse joint organization comprised of Soldiers, Marines, Sailors, Airmen, Guardians, DoD civilian and contract personnel who have integrated relationships with commercial, inter-agency and international partners. Our approach includes growing joint-smart and space-smart warfighters who understand our competition to protect our homeland and interests. Together, we are forging ahead and moving our command toward full operational capability. We will conduct operations in, from, and to space to deter conflict, if needed defeat aggression and deliver space combat power for the Joint and Combined Force and defend U.S. vital interests with allies and partners.

USSPACECOM's provisional headquarters is located at Peterson Space Force Base with a permanent basing decision expected in mid-2023. The command will determine timelines for possible transitioning locations, and will remain at Peterson Space Force Base until the basing process is finalized and facilities are ready at the permanent headquarters. We encourage you to enjoy the many opportunities Colorado has to offer. ..from world-class skiing, some of America's finest hiking trails and the splendor of Pikes Peak, there is truly something for everyone. I encourage you to take advantage of your time here and be active! We care for each other and our Families (my #1 Priority) and you and your Family are the most precious resource in this command. We treat ALL with Dignity and Respect and work as a team of professionals to ensure there is NEVER A DAY WITHOUT SPACE!

Your sponsor will contact you to ease your transition into the command. As we maintain digital superiority, a collection of resources to assist you and your family are located at <https://www.spacecom.mil/Newcomers/Newcomer-Information/>. Please reach out to your sponsor with any questions or concerns.

From your Commander, Command Senior Enlisted Leader and our Spouses, Welcome to United States Space Command!
